

PROFESSIONAL RECOGNITION FOR YOUR BUSINESS

The I-CAR® Gold Class™ recognition is the highest role-relevant training accreditation recognised by the collision repair industry in Australia. The I-CAR Professional Development Program provides collision repair and insurance businesses with a reliable training framework for acquiring Gold Class status and maintaining the up-to-date knowledge and skills that contribute to competent repairs, improved business performance and risk reduction.

To date, more than 200 new vehicles and redesigns have debuted, many with new lightweight vehicle materials and advanced safety systems that have changed the nature of collision repairs. Up-to-date training is becoming increasingly important for consumer safety and business survival. The Gold Class program prepares your business to meet the challenges of this ongoing technological change.

For a repair facility to be eligible for the Gold Class program, it must disclose all employees and accurately define their job roles. To earn the Gold Class recognition, businesses must achieve and maintain a high level of role-specific training across each of the major collision repair roles. A repair facility must identify a technician in each of these roles who has achieved I-CAR® Platinum Individual™ recognition, earned through I-CAR and Industry Training Alliance accreditation. All other employees directly involved in the repair of vehicles must complete four training points.

In businesses with fewer than ten employees, one technician may be nominated to be the representative for dual roles.

Maintaining Your Designation

Ongoing Gold Class status is maintained by each staff member completing courses worth two or more points on an annual basis to maintain knowledge of the latest technology and advancements in the industry.
